We seek only to serve God according to His Will!

Half truths are lies. These are attempts to deceive. The one who attempts to maintain truth of character and yet mislead often employs this method...This liar seeks to enhance his worth in the eyes of others.

There are some folks who seek to confirm a lie for truth. This person, whatever his motive, has no reluctance to lie. The liar sees his lies as a means of accomplishing a desired end. He never stops, it seems, to consider the consequence of such lies...How can one find it incredible that no one has confidence in what he/she speaks when such a one often resorts to lying?

Lying is evil. It proceeds from the devil. It is associated with various evils. God hates lying...Situationism does not make honorable men out of liars...Human relations cannot endure on falsehoods.

Especially For Children

Michael Garrison

The Proverbs were written by Solomon, King of Israel. He wrote concerning the title of this article. We will quote a few of his Proverbs for you to think about. All references are to Proverbs unless otherwise indicated.

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction" (1:7).

"My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother" (1:8).

"My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother" (6:20).

"Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding" (4:1).

Honor your father and mother (which is the first commandment with a promise), so that it may be well with you, and that you may live long on the earth.

Ephesians 6:2-3

"My son, attend unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to my understanding: That thou mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge" (5:1-2).

"A wise son heareth his father's instruction: but a scorner heareth not rebuke" (13:1).

"A fool despiseth his father's instruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent" (15:5).

"A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise" (15:12).

Parents' teaching can and should be to help their children to obey God. (Ephesians 6:4). Parents can and should instruct by word of mouth, but also by setting righteous, godly examples. Children, you ought to thank God for your godly parents. When your parents tell you not to smoke, drink, curse, swear, dance, or not to go around with certain individuals, or not to dress immodestly, etc., it is for your own good. It will help you now and later on. When your folks tell you not to watch certain T.V. shows or movies, they have love in their hearts for you and are watching out for your spiritual welfare as they do even for your physical welfare.

As children, we don't always know what is best for us, but God, in His wisdom, gave us parents to direct and protect us. Let us honor, love, and respect them as God directs that we should.

"Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right. Honor thy father and mother; (which is the first commandment with promise;) That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth" (Ephesians 6:1-3).

Store In My Heart

Hosea 1:1

The word of the Lord which came to Hosea the son of Beer, during the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and during the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

In the last days of the northern kingdom of Israel God called Hosea to prophesy to the idolatrous nation.

God used Hosea to illustrate His love for Israel though they continually turned away from Him. Hosea's home life was directed by God as examples of the relationship between Him and Israel.

The continued refusal of Israel to seek God and serve Him only led to their destruction as a people. We should heed the warning lest we suffer such a fate for eternity.

"For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry. Because thou hast rejected the Word of the Lord, He hath also rejected thee from being king" (1Samuel 15:23).

Let it never be said of us that though our parents loved us the more, we loved them the less. (See 2Corinthians 12:15).

(Note to parents: Are you worthy of your children's love, honor, and respect? Do you set the proper example of right living? If not, repent and obey God in all things for your good as well as the good of your children.)

"Lie Not One To Another"

Johnny Richardson

The first "tool" Satan used to cause man to sin was a lie. (Genesis 3:4). Jesus declared the devil to be the father of lies. "... When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof" (John 8:44). This very fact should be enough for the thinking person to abhor lies, but lying still plagues every facet of society. Truth is not the valued commodity with the world as it should be. But to the Christian this should make it more precious. The sad fact is that even among those who profess to be Christians the value of truth seems to be diminishing while the occurrence of lies is too prevalent. Perhaps we need an entire reevaluation of the significance of truth vs. lying. Some are as at ease with a lie as they are with the truth; some seemingly do not even know when they are telling a lie.
