

Conversion - It's All New Acts 3:17-21

A Change

epistrophē - ἐπιστροφή - ep-is-trof-ay'

reversion, that is, moral revolution: - conversion. – Strong's

Conversion - In a general sense, a turning or change from one state to another; with regard to substances, transmutation; as a conversion of water into ice, or of food into chyle or blood. In military affairs, a change of front, as when a body of troops is attacked in the flank, and they change their position to face the enemy.

In a theological or moral sense, a change of heart, or dispositions, in which the enmity of the heart to God and his law and the obstinacy of the will are subdued, and are succeeded by supreme love to God and his moral government, and a reformation of life.

Change from one side or party to another. - A change from one religion to another; as the conversion of the Gentiles. Acts 15. – Webster

Colossians 3:1-17; Romans 6:1-18

A New Relationship

Colossians 3:5-11; Romans 6:1-7

Without this, we will never please God.

A New Heart

Colossians 3:12-15

When the heart is unchanged, sin will surely return to it. - Galatians 2:11-12

Heart must agree with new relationship established in Christ! - Romans 12:1-2

A New Guide

Colossians 3:16; 2Timothy 3:16-17; 2Peter 1:3

A New Leader

Colossians 3:17; Romans 6:16; Acts 2:36; Matthew 28:18; 1Timothy 6:13-16

Are You Converted To Christ

Romans 6:3,11

Confession is acknowledging His control in your life. - Matthew 10:32-33; Romans 10:8-10

Dan Henderson